Thought for the month!

July is heating up and time to enjoy the longer days with a cool beverage and good company.

Onward...

June was filled with lots of new learning, good company and important milestones. I am so thrilled to be able to be apart of them and made to feel like I matter. It is not just work or volunteering that brings joy, it is family. For this I am blessed.

Here is a story from my heart.

July will see my son turn 46. As he celebrates his birthday with the world, he and I celebrate 5 days later. I was able to hold my chosen child when he was 5 days old. I also share with him what I was doing when I was his age. Happy birthday's my son. Love you forever. MoM
